

SAID IN CYPRESS

By Newsy

It was amusing in some respects, anyway. The last rain, that is, which left a road marker standing in a great expanse of water out west of town. The end of the tab showed the number of miles had been bent slightly. So the marker read—"Long Beach."

Join me in a swim and sun bath?

Two good pieces of information this week—Mrs. Ruth Pugh, postmaster, says that although they have no official confirmation yet, the 10% tax on purchase of government post cards in lots of 50 or over has been reported as canceled. And the telephone office said in an unofficial conversation over our personal bill that the extra charge which has appeared on the bills to compensate for the change over to a higher price to telephone from a coin box is off after next month.

If there is anyone who reads this column who would like to volunteer a little community service, we have just such an opportunity in mind. You may have noticed that Cypress is never mentioned in the rainfall reports published in the daily papers. This is because results of the official rain gauge have not been recovered since the death of R. C. Wallace, who tended the duties over a period of years. There is nothing difficult about the job, except its constancy. Readings must be taken twice a day, morning and evening, on days there is precipitation. If interested, call Anaheim 60355 and volunteer.

Catholic Mission Held Through Next Week

A mission will be conducted by the renowned redemptorist priest, the Rev. Herman Heidker, C.Ss.C., in St. Pius V church on Orange-thorpe and Grand avenues commencing with the Sunday morning masses and evening service at 7:30 o'clock Sunday, March 16. The mission will continue through services Sunday, March 23, inclusive.

The weekday schedule will include two masses at six and ten o'clock a.m. and at 7:30 o'clock in the evening during the mission. The missionary will preach a series of sermons on the basic fundamentals of Christian belief and the Christian way of life, according to Father Frederick Kass, local parish priest.

Wednesday, March 19, will be a special day of recollection for the women of the area from ten a.m. to 3:30 p.m. The purpose of the mission is to offer extra opportunities for hearing the word of God and to learn more about how to live a little better the Christian way of life.

Everyone is invited to the services, and non-Catholics especially will be welcome to attend and learn a little of the Catholic beliefs and teachings, according to Father Kass.

MOON CAFE REOPENS UNDER NEW OWNERSHIP

Newly redecorated and overhauled, the Moon cafe at 7791 Lincoln avenue is open under a new management. Mrs. Ruth McLaughlin and her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lind, are announcing the grand opening on Saturday, to which the public is invited. Refreshments will be served from 1 to 3 p.m., 4 to 6 p.m., and 7 to 9 p.m.

Although the cafe will be open 24 hours, with a complete menu being served and breakfast, lunch and dinner, the specialty of the house will be bar-b-qued ribs, with unusual attention being given selection of the meat.

Firms Here Give Trophies For Dog Show

When the annual Santa Ana Valley Kennel club's dog show is held this year at La Palma park in Anaheim on April 20, Cypress merchants will be well represented among trophy donors. Local businesses went all out for the Dobermann class.

Announcement is made of the following list of trophies donated: M & H Market, reserve trophy; Cypress Beverage, also a reserve trophy; Corby's Barber shop, best opposite; Cypress Cleaners, bred by exhibitor dog; Leona's Fifth Gear cafe, novice dog, and from Constable Haskell Kelley, a Cypress resident, winner's bitch; Mr. and Mrs. Ray O'Halloran, winner's dog; and Dr. Nelson Crandall, newcomer to the area this year at his veterinary clinic, 111755 E. Carson, junior puppy bitch.

A good deal of the interest locally stems from the enthusiasm of Mr. and Mrs. O'Halloran of Cypress, who are dobermann fanciers. O'Halloran stated that last year the show ranked fifth in the nation, and officials hope to make it second this year and top Long Beach.

Mrs. O'Halloran is also an active member of the club. She is a committeeman for the "eats" department, and states that Leona's doughnut shop will make all the doughnuts for the show again this year. Anaheim caterers will furnish the rest.

Anyone wishing to place an entry in the show may contact Mrs. O'Halloran for entry blanks. She urges that owners enter their pets and find out just how good their dog or puppy is.

MISS VAN HUNNICK, SENIOR, SPEECH CONTEST WINNER

Proud winner of a speech contest in Anaheim Monday night was Miss Elizabeth Van Hunnicks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Van Hunnicks, 9141 Miller road. A senior at Anaheim Union high school, she chose as her subject, "The 26 day republic of California." The contest was sponsored by the Native Sons of the Golden West.

Miss Van Hunnicks received a check for ten dollars. She is a member of the public speaking class of which Miss Hitt is instructor. Next Monday evening the Anaheim contestant will compete for the county championship in Santa Ana.

Lois Swift Is Member Choral Group

Miss Lois Swift, clerk in Henry's drug store, has been kept busy the past few days with a heavy college schedule and her extra-curricular activities, besides attending to her duties in the store.

A member of the Santa Ana College Swing choir, the six boys and six girls in the group, under the direction of Gordon Wheatly, have had a heavy slate of public appearances.

TV viewers here caught a glimpse of Lois when the choir appeared on N.T.G.'s "Hollywood road to fame" program last Friday evening at seven o'clock. If successful during the week's toll of votes, they will be back tonight on the program.

Other dates included Peter Potter's show and many organizational meetings in the area.

Cypress IOOF Lodge Receives Charter From Grand Master

Tuesday was a gala night for Cypress Odd Fellows and their sister Rebekahs when Grand Master Gene J. Bianchi of the California grand lodge, accompanied by Grand Conductor Art Talbot, visited Cypress IOOF Lodge No. 77. At a regular session held in the school auditorium, Bianchi presented the lodge with its charter, long looked for event. Presided over by Karl Beason, noble grand, and Gerald Malbourn, vice grand, the visitors were ushered in by an escort of Anaheim Canton members in full regalia.

Following the lodge meeting doors were thrown open and sister Rebekahs invited to join the audience, while Grand Master Bianchi addressed them. He spoke mostly of the coming pageant to be presented during grand lodge at Long Beach in May, plans for which are now being completed. The project is a step toward making Odd Fellowship as well known in California households as some of the popular merchandise is made popular by advertising.

Leading dignitaries introduced introduce guests were Past Grand Patriarch Henry Mang, Anaheim; Brig. Gen. Clarence A. Zucke, Fullerton; Brig. Gen. Arnold E. Howard, Col. C. R. Nelson and Capt. Mel Reynolds, Anaheim; District Deputy Leo Kinsman, Westminster. Out of town lodges represented were Anaheim, 10; Fullerton, 3; Santa Ana, 2; Orange, 6; Costa Mesa, 3; Long Beach, 4; Indio, 1; Artesia, 1; Bellflower, 3 and 30 sister Rebekahs.

The Busy Bee Rebekah Lodge No. 406 served a chicken dinner with all the trimmings before the lodge meeting and after the session visiting brothers of the famous Orange county "Round Up" gang brought out their pies and doughnuts and with coffee furnished by Cypress lodge a real fun-fest was staged.

EX-AD MAN IS WINNER IN MONARCH CONTEST

Dale Kroesen, ex-ad man of the NEWS and known about Buena Park as a coffee moocher during his advertising days, no longer needs to worry about the source of his favorite drink anymore.

He was the winner of the Monarch cleaner's February prize, a Universal Coffeematic. The gift was presented to him by owner Mike Yohannan Saturday.

The contest continues this month with a prize of an automatic toastmaster set being offered.

Immediate Action By Chamber Can Start Sewer Survey, Speaker Says

Tell Medics About Flood

Experiences of the Artesia citizens during the February floods were related to the Cypress medical department of the civil defense at their meeting last week.

Dr. Russell B. Clark, of the Artesia hospital, was the speaker, and he preceded his talk with a movie on what to do in case of an atomic attack called, "Pattern for Survival".

Dr. Clark pointed out the value of the civil defense medical unit of Artesia and how it operated in getting temporary housing, food and medical attention for the 500 refugees of the town.

Emergency in Cypress

Dr. M. H. Damron, head of the Cypress unit, spoke briefly before Dr. Clark. He expressed satisfaction with the cooperation of the local members during the emergency flood crisis, and added that although they weren't needed, when the call was received Cypress was able to prepare 40 beds in the school house, and there was enough food for 100 people for one week.

Dr. Hannegan of Santa Ana, who is the immediate superior to the Cypress unit, gave a brief talk at the end of the meeting and commended Dr. Damron and his staff for being much farther ahead in civil defense preparations than almost any other town in the area.

Change Artificial Respiration

Dr. Damron explained the Red Cross has adopted a different system of giving artificial respiration, called "back pressure arm lift" method. Anyone interested in learning to use it is asked to meet at the home of Mrs. Murton Jones, 8592 S. Walker, March 17 for instruction.

Sheriff's Car, Olga Ronconi In Accident

An Orange county sheriff's prowl car and Mrs. Olga Ronconi, Santa Ana, collided at the corner of Walker street and Ball road south of Cypress late Wednesday afternoon.

Sgt. Danny Rios, passenger in the sheriff's car, and Mrs. Ronconi were taken immediately to St. Joseph's hospital in Orange for emergency treatment.

Rios was thrown against the shift lever and injured his side, and Mrs. Ronconi suffered facial cuts. Exact extent of their injuries was not determined at press time.

Sgt. Roy Bruce, driver of the official vehicle, said Mrs. Ronconi was coming onto Walker and he was driving west on Ball road when the mishap occurred.

COURTESY COUNTS

In driving, as in other social activities, courtesy counts. Motorists, according to the National Automobile Club, can help keep themselves safe by extending to other drivers the common courtesies they extend to associates and friends in the office or the home.

Possibility that Cypress might be able to have a sewage disposal and collection system in the not-too-distant future was indicated in a talk before the chamber of commerce Monday night by Lester Boyle, engineer from Santa Ana.

Boyle suggested the town get to work on the preliminary steps as soon as possible, and outlined the procedure which might be followed for immediate action.

First action will be taken at a meeting of the chamber board within the next few days, in which it will be decided whether or not to send a letter to Boyle's engineering firm authorizing them to come to Cypress and make a survey of the area to find what possible avenues are open for a sewage disposal and collection system, and how much the various plans decided upon would cost the taxpayer. Immediate finances for the work are within the chamber's limits, according to facts given by Boyle. Or the board may decide to call in another engineer for further advice.

At a meeting Thursday noon the board voted to send a letter authorizing Lester Boyle engineering firm to proceed with preparation of a survey.

After enough of the survey has been completed to give the town an idea of the approximate cost of possible systems and other important details, the report will be given to the chamber for approval or rejection. If approval is given, after the feelings of the town have been ascertained, the engineers will complete a detailed report and it will be given to the county for approval so that a district might be formed, and a bond election held.

Optimistic View

If the bond election passes, the machinery can be set in action which might give sewers to Cypress in as short a time as two years, Boyle said, although he pointed out that this was just a guess and it might take longer or be done in a shorter time.

Boyle gave his listeners an idea of progress that has been made by such communities as Midway City, Stanton and Los Alamitos. The latter town will have its bond election April 24, and if it passes, may have their sewers as soon as the latter part of 1953.

Boyle thought the possibility of Cypress making an agreement to hook on to the Los Alamitos system in the event it passes is a good one and should be thoroughly investigated in the preparation of the report. Many other encouraging questions were asked by those in attendance, which suggested numerous practical ways the sewers might be installed.

Such ideas as hooking on to the Magnolia trunk, running a line down the PE tracks to the Midway City or Stanton system and how much the survey would cost, were all brought up and Boyle answered them with what facts he has available at this time.

Although sentiments of the board members present at the talk seemed to favor the idea of immediate action on getting the survey done, formal action will be taken at a chamber board meeting late this week.

PAGING PAUL BUNYAN

With the California farm income in 1951 rising to an estimated $2½ billions plus, it becomes evident that our State is not only keeping pace with agricultural progress throughout the nation but is actually leading the way.

One of the most healthy signs is that nearly all of our varied crops—we produce more than 200—had a good year. Cotton, the relative newcomer to the 'big time', again was king with a total crop value of more than $400 million. Animal and poultry products alone topped the $1 billion mark with plenty to spare. Commercial vegetables also had a record year with tomatoes the outstanding item.

In awarding the accolades for the State's fine showing, the farmers' achievement in boosting output in the face of rising costs is especially deserving to note. Their use of the most modern machinery and their willingness to experiment with new methods were important factors too, in the great farm year. The cooperation of truckers and rail lines in speeding the produce to the market and the aid of the local branch banks in financing crops—these also were and are indispensable services to the farmer's success.

BETTER LIVING THROUGH ADVERTISING

The difference between the standard of living in Europe and America is mainly one of advertising. This is the opinion expressed by J. C. Hammond, publisher of the Corona Daily Independent, as a result of a first hand study of the subject.

Pointing out that there is relatively little advertising in European newspapers, radio or what they have of television, Hammond declares: "If Europeans could read advertising like Americans do, their outlook on life would change. They would want modern appliances and tools . . . They would want more TV sets and radios, learn more about the best in clothing, food, furniture, drugs, dry cleaning and products and services offered by retailers, wholesalers, manufacturers and others."

The publisher says that this desire would cause them to work harder to obtain these things instead of closing their shops and stores for most of the afternoon as they do in Rome.

Hammond's views, recently written up in National Publisher and California Publisher, bear out the contention that advertising is not merely a device for selling goods and services but is a vital factor in, and stimulus to, our American way of life.

With all our natural resources and natural advantages, we too, might still be drifting along with a living standard hardly better than that of Europe's had we not, through advertising, created the desire for better things among our people.

Advertising pays—everybody!

I RISE TO REMARK

By JOHN PHILLIPS

BI-PARTISAN FOREIGN POLICY: Every once in a while, somebody writes me in support of what he or she calls a "bi-partisan policy." I explain patiently that I've worked in these diggings for almost ten years and I have yet to see anything resembling an honest bi-partisan foreign policy. What the present administration means, its for it to decide foreign policy and then to invite a few gullible Republican leaders down to the White House, to be briefed on some "confidential" detail (which you will soon read about in the papers) and to have lunch with Churchill or Dean Acheson. The Republicans are expected to come back to the Hill and support what is thereafter referred to as "bi-partisan policy."

Fortunately, this situation has been somewhat changed by death, and by Republican realization that the folks at home were not that naive. No better evidence of the absence of bi-partisan approach has been shown than during Mr. Churchill or Dean Acheson. The Minister was here to consult with the Secretary of State; with the Joint Chiefs of Staff, with the President; and with the planners, but not once did the President invite any Republican leader to join in these talks. If you want a bi-partisan policy, which would be an excellent thing to have, please address your suggestions to the White House.

DEBATE ON UMT BILL: We should be voting on the proposed UMT bill about the time you read this letter. In my letter of February 21, I included an item on this subject. I said, "I have been for such TRAINING, ever since W. W. I." (I add the emphasis now.) I have had several letters protesting my support of the present bill. Read my letter again. I said it was controversial. I said controlled by civilians; must have the training program must be an expiration date; must recognize the constitutional ideas of a trained citizen army, and that there are other points to settle.

This gives me the chance to point out, as I do now and then, that our strength lies in the system called the "Republic." One of the important features of this theory is that we elect Assemblymen and Senators, to Sacramento, and Congressmen to Washington, but that we do NOT try to tell them how to vote on specific bills. It is a practical theory. In this UMT argument, I received hundreds and hundreds of letters, both for and against UMT, not one of the writers of which knew what was proposed in the bill, which was not reported out of the committee until February 18, and printed several days later. Neither we nor the folks at home could know the details until then.

Having read the bill, my first reaction was that I would vote to amend the features to which I take exception (those mentioned above, and others) and then vote to re-commit the bill to the committee. I could not decide my vote on final passage until I knew what amendments were adopted. As the debate progresses (and I think it will rate as one of the great debates of recent history) it appears more and more certain that the confusions in the bill can not be cleared up from the floor. I hazard a guess that a lot of men who, like myself, want initial training, with the men being sent back to their homes and schools, to be called later, if necessary, through a Selective Service program, will decide not only to vote to re-commit, but to vote against the patchwork which will probably be made out of H. R. 5904.

Always keep in mind, our friends and constituents at home; the enthusiasts for and against any subject; editorial writers, or pro and con speakers, have the happy privilege of discussing subjects in general terms. Congressmen do not have that privilege; we must vote on a bill, on the Speaker's desk, as it has been changed, or remains unchanged, when all talk is over. We have only "yes" or "no" votes; there are no "well, maybe" votes. That is what we call representative government.

The alternative would be easier on your Representative. He could decide which of the multitude of groups and organizations he wanted to select to do his long-distance thinking for him. He would wait until he was told how to vote. He wouldn't even have to read the bill. He could catch up on his golf; and his sleep. It would be easier, but it would be the end of the Republic.

COUNTY COMMENT

By GEORGE E. HART

The late Terry E. Stephenson, one of the great newspapermen in Orange County's history, wrote some 15 years ago that "Goodwill Industries has been, and is, and will continue to be, a valuable asset to Orange County."

This was not only accurate analysis but good prophecy. Goodwill Industries of Orange County, taking part this year in the Golden Jubilee anniversary of Goodwill Industries of America, has grown to be more than an asset to Orange County.

It is well said that every step of its growth and progress adds that much more to the general benefits received from it by the county as a whole. It benefits both the household castoffs and the human castoffs that it brings together, to produce something useful to society in each case.

It is the only salvage collection agency in Orange County that is doing that sort of job for the benefit of Orange County people — and taxpayer. Others either put private profits in somebody's pocket, or take their local household collections over to another county, to benefit the workers and taxpayers there.

Goodwill Industries of Orange County last year paid $93,923 in wages to its physically handicapped employees. That brought $93,923 worth of self respect, and far more than that, because self respect cannot be measured in dollars. It lifted $93,923 off the backs of the burdened taxpayers of Orange County. And it didn't get a dime of public subsidy, such as Community Chest. Where can you beat that kind of welfare set-up?

An independent unit of the associated Goodwill Industries around the country, completely boss of its own affairs, and paying no part of its revenue to any outside source, Goodwill Industries of Orange County has deservedly grown steadily in public favor and in the breadth of its service to needy humanity.

For example, 15 years ago, its total wage payment was $16,448, 10 years ago it was $27,551, five years ago $54,792 and last year $93,923. That shows. In the last 15 years it has paid more than $600,000 to the handicapped. A $600,000 saving to Orange County

Frank Rospaw Announces For Assembly

PLACENTIA EDITOR SEEKS ELECTION IN 75th DISTRICT

Frank Rospaw

Seeking election to the Assembly from the 75th District, Frank Rospaw, for 24 years owner and editor of the Placentia Courier, is announcing his candidacy for that office. The 75th district, under the new reapportionment, comprises all territory in Orange county north of a line down the center of the Santa Ana river. The post has been held for 12 years by Speaker Sam L. Collins of Fullerton, who expects to be a candidate for State Senator from the 35th district, comprising all of Orange county.

A native of Illinois, Rospaw received newspaper training in Kansas and came to California and Orange county in 1923, buying the Yorba Linda Star. After five years there he purchased the Placentia newspaper in 1928. Active in newspaper circles, he served as president of California Newspaper Publishers Association and from 1944 to 1949 was a director of Newspaper Advertising Service, a division of the National Editorial Association.

Mrs. Rospaw, has for years been editor of the California Clubwoman, official magazine of the California Federation of Women's Clubs. Mr. and Mrs. Rospaw have one son, Cecil F. Rospaw, who attended Stanford University, and is now with the public relations office of the US Department of State, in Frankfurt, Germany.

"Residents of the 75th District should be aware the laws which govern the state are enacted at Sacramento" said Rospaw. "As an ordinary citizen I am familiar with

McFadden Will Seek Re-Election As Supervisor

Ralph J. McFadden

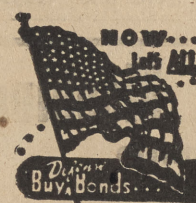

Now completing the final year of his first term in office, Ralph J. McFadden of Placentia plans to seek re-election as a member of the Orange county Board of Supervisors, representing the 3rd district. The district includes, Yorba Linda, Placentia, Buena Park, Cypress and Anaheim. Papers nominating McFadden for the office will be filed early in March.

Born in Placentia and a lifelong resident of the district, McFadden has been active in business and civic affairs for many years. His work as a member of the Board of Supervisors in the past few years has been approved by ranchers and residents of cities.

Elected to the office in the fall of 1948, McFadden is now completing the final year of his four year term, to expire in January 1953. The office is non partisan and his name will appear on ballots for the primary election to be held Tuesday, June 3, 1952. Pol. Adv.

Date set for the spaghetti dinner to be served the public by the Cypress VFW auxiliary was erroneously given in last week's issue. The meal will be served March 23 at the VFW hall, Lincoln and Miller, according to the home fund chairman, Mrs. Ray E. Lucas. Proceeds will be used to further that worthy project, she said. Several members will be attending the organization's district meeting in Palm Springs on March 16, the date stated last week.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Goodman, 8742 Cypress avenue, attended funeral services for her grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Lavender, in Los Angeles last Wednesday.

Mrs. H. J. G. Kreissler was surprised Monday evening by a visit from North Dakota cousins whom she had not seen in many years.

Catholic Women Have Busy Week

With Mrs. Nace Heavrin presiding, the Altar society of the Church of St. Pius V met on March 5 in the Parish Hall.

A Day of Recollection was planned for March 19 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. in connection with the mission to be held during that week. Each member will bring her own lunch.

Plans were made for a card party on April 17.

On the following day, Thursday, several members of the society, with the pastor, Rev. Frederick Kass, attended the deanery of the National Council of Catholic Women in the Costa Mesa club house. Two hundred women and several parish priests were present at the all day meeting, marked by outstanding speakers and a delicious St. Patrick's luncheon, with clever decorations and appointments. Reports were given from each parish.

Representing the Church of St. Pius V were Meses. Timothy Daly, D. A. McIntyre, John Tokar, Mary Cerrales, Dorothy Elms, Leo Smith, Cora Rojas and Father Kass.

"MEXICO" TOPIC MISSION MEETING

Members of the Garnet Howard chapter of the Women's missionary society of the Cypress Church of the Nazarene met Monday evening for their regular monthly meeting. Mrs. P. K. Allen offered her home at 8761 Walker st. and hostesses were Mrs. Alva Kuykendall and Mrs. L. E. Matthews.

Mrs. J. C. Napier, vice chairman of the group, presided at the business meeting at which it was decided to meet at Mrs. Hal Shirey's in Los Alamitos March 20. The group will roll bandages.

Mrs. W. D. Howard directed a study of related customs and habits of people in Mexico, especially eating habits. A lively discussion followed of favorite Mexican dishes. Mrs. Walter Allen was in charge of devotions.

When the refreshments were served, hostesses were assisted by three "junior" missionaries, Mary Jo Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Allen, and Mary Lee and Kenny Allen, of the home.

Present besides those already mentioned were Miss Gayle Mc-

DINNER HONORS HAROLD PUGH

Although a dinner party planned in his honor Monday was no surprise to Harold Pugh, 9242 Walker Street, the generous shower of birthday presents which followed was a pleasant experience.

Mrs. Pugh, his wife, planned the evening affair for members of the immediate family. Present to share in the celebration were Mrs. Ruth Pugh, his mother, and his brothers and their families, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Pugh and three children and Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Pugh and two daughters.

Preston K. Allen, 8761 Walker street, left by plane Saturday morning for his former home in Burkesville, Kentucky, where he is visiting his parents and other relatives and friends.

MAN SCHOOLED IN NORWAY LIVING HERE

Making his ohme with the Scalla family at 5411 Bishop street is Erling Herresvela, a young quota immigrant from Norway, thirty years of age. He served in a Nazi camp before coming to America.

He is working part time as a milk tester. He is a graduate of an agricultural college, and before coming to Cypress lived for awhile in Montana doing other kinds of work until he could learn the English language. He came to California seeking a warmer climate.

Jack De Polter was kept at home last weekend following minor surgery.

NURSES PLAN INSTITUTE

District No. 16 California State Nurses' association will hold an all-day institute at the YWCA in Santa Ana on March 27. All registered nurses are urged to attend whether active or inactive. Registration fee will be 50c, and nurses may register from 8:30 to 9 a.m.

Lunch and dinner will be served, for which reservations must be received by March 21. Call Buena Park 2625 for reservations.

Mrs. Earl Essex has been concerned this week over the ill health of her cousin's mother in Lakewood. The cousin, Mrs. Pearl Rath, is well known here, being a frequent visitor in the Essex home. The aunt was stricken Monday.

Many skills of many people go into the big job of providing telephone service in the West today.

FIVE BILLION CONVERSATIONS

This huge number of telephone calls a year is the important responsibility of 73,000 men and women in the West.

Five billion conversations! By day and night, in cities and towns, across valleys and over mountains, the West's telephone lines are busy carrying the calls that in a year total more than twice the population of the earth! Some calls are routine, others may save a life, but each call is vital to capable telephone people everywhere as they work at the wide variety of telephone jobs needed to serve you and the nation well.

Your telephone is one of today's best bargains

For every telephone employee, we have about $20,000 invested in telephone equipment. Naturally, both must work together to bring you good telephone service. And it's reassuring to know that despite our sharply-increased costs of both wages and materials, we've been able to keep your telephone one of today's best bargains.

This telephone team, for instance, is pinpointing the location of a buried cable which needs repairs. The cable will be fixed quickly...and calls will flow again. Meanwhile, your long distance calls are re-routed to get them through with little or no delay. This is just part of the complex job of maintaining and expanding the West's vast telephone system—a job which now requires the skills of some 27,000 well-trained telephone men and 46,000 alert telephone women here in the West. 'Round the clock, they're on the job to keep America's telephone system the finest in the world...able to do its full share of the important task of keeping America strong.

Team Wins; Are County Champions

High honors were earned by the ball team of the Cypress Church of the Nazarene this week when they were declared Orange county basketball champions.

On Saturday, the team journeys to Pasadena, according to the Rev. W. D. Howard, pastor, where they will be eligible to participate in a play-off for district honors.

Don W. Woodie, son of Mr. and Mrs. King Woodie of Cypress, was wed in Long Beach recently to Miss Sherill Lee Beitler of that city. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Beitler. Both young people attended Wilson high school.

Women Plan Club's Money Making Affairs

When the Cypress Women's Community club met at the home of Mrs. Richard Hathcock, 5382 De Long street on Tuesday, hostesses served a delicious chicken salad and hot rolls at the social period preceding the business meeting. Assisting Mrs. Hathcock were Mrs. Russell Flynn and Mrs. M. R. "Bob" Jensen.

Little cards in sealed envelopes were cleverly tucked inside the paper napkins. These announced to the members the secret marriage last summer of Miss Peggy Flynn to Russell Noe. Both mothers are long-time members of the club.

Five new members were introduced after Mrs. Flynn and Mrs. Noe had received the congratulations of their member friends. They were Mmes. Ed Robinson, Clarence Southfield, Jean Rallings, Leona Mossey, Thomas Murphy. Another new member, Mrs. H. J. G. Kreissler, was not present. Mrs. Sam Rosen was a guest.

Mrs. Merton Jones reported that ten dollars given the coordinating council had been returned, in lieu of other arrangements. The club in turn voted the money from the mystery package be donated to the council to help purchase a wheelchair. There was over $18 in the fund. Mrs. Jones also urged all who could to help with the Red Cross drive.

After a discussion on ways to help the volunteer firemen raise money to purchase a panel truck, it was decided to sponsor a box supper May 3 to which the public will be invited. A committee composed of Mmes. Robinson, Jensen, Southfield and Jones were named to make arrangements for entertainment, an auctioneer and other details.

It was also decided to have a series of "come as you are" breakfasts in order to raise funds for the club, with their usual fines for not conforming to the rules, and a per capita charge. Mrs. Hathcock, Mrs. Earl Essex and Mrs. Haskell Kelley were appointed to sponsor the first affair. These are unannounced.

Mrs. Wallace Frazier won the mystery package.

Little round face of one of the Howard twins, Gail Ann, is rounder this week. She is confined home with the mumps. The twins are the daughters of the Rev. and Mrs. W. D. Howard of Cypress.

Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas and David sat still last week while their old home was rolled away and a new deluxe model was rolled in to replace it. The new house trailer has several rooms, including two bedrooms and bath.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Bakker and his father, C. Bakker and two sisters and their husbands, Mr. and Mrs. George Dykstra and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Visbeck, enjoyed a day at the races recently.

Summer Vows Revealed For Flynn, Noe

Two prominent Cypress families began receiving congratulations from surprised friends in the community when the announcement was made this week by Mr. and Mrs. Russell Flynn, 5662 Danny avenue, of the marriage of their daughter, Miss Peggy Flynn, to Russell Noe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Noe, 5461 Grace street.

The couple, who are held in high regard by their classmates and friends, slipped away to Yuma, Arizona, on July 8, last summer. They were wed in Gretna Green chapel by a justice of the peace. Only the bride's young brother, Jackie Flynn, knew their secret until they informed their parents of the news this week.

Both young people attended Cypress elementary school. The bride is a junior at Anaheim Union high school and the groom attends classes at Fullerton Junior college where he is a freshman. They will continue staying with their parents until the end of the school year when they will occupy a cottage at 5221 Lincoln avenue. They both plan to attend night school to complete their educations. Noe helps after school and Saturdays in the Cypress Hardware store, owned by his father and uncle, Foster Noe.

Kenneth Ogle hasn't left for the service yet. He has a "bum" knee which is requiring treatments. He hopes that in another month he will be accepted.

Republicans Lead County Registration

Registration of Orange County voters as of March 1 totaled 93,032, it was reported this week by County Clerk B. J. Smith, with Republicans leading the Democrats more than 6000, 47,847 to 41,762.

The present total is nearly 2000 higher than the total for March 1, 1950, Smith stated. The 1950 total had reached 97,372 by the close of the registration for the primary in 1950, and was up to 103,612 for the general election that year.

Then those who had failed to vote at either the primary or general election were trimmed off the voting list. They and others who have moved to a different voting precinct meanwhile, were required to register this year in order to gain voting eligibility.

The present registration total includes 468 registered under various party labels, and 2955 who declined to state any party affiliation. The latter group can vote only on nonpartisan offices in the primary.

Friends of Mrs. Charles Ransom noted her birthday when they gathered recently at the home of her brother-in-law and sister, the Rev. and Mrs. Clarence G. Eigenhuis, in a surprise affair. Mrs. Ransom is pianist at the Faith Tabernacle church where the Rev. Mr. Eigenhuis is pastor.

Forrest Lowrey had ample reason to celebrate this week. He noted a birthday March 10 which was observed by a special family dinner on Sunday and gift-giving on Monday. He was also given a new assignment at Douglas plant, which is in the way of a promotion.

Budget Cuts Mean Savings In California

Tax savings of $16,087,000 would be possible for the people of Orange county if Congress accepted the recommendations of Senator Harry F. Byrd, of Virginia, for reductions of $8.6 billion in the $85.6 billion federal budget proposal now before it, California Taxpayers' Association estimated today.

Californians bear more than 8 percent of the total federal tax burden and will eventually realize more than 8 percent of any budget reductions made.

"Statewide, Californians would have eventual tax savings of $733,580,000 if Senator Byrd's recommendations for budget cuts are adopted by Congress," the Taxpayers' organization said.

Even greater savings could be achieved if Congress were to adopt the resolution setting a $71 billion limit on the federal spending budget for 1952-53," the association said, pointing out that $71 billion is the amount expected to be collected under the present heavy level of federal taxes.

Senator Byrd holds that Congress can make the $8.6 billion spending cut without active support from the chief executive.

"Every dollar that is not spent on the federal level is a dollar that will eventually be spendable or savable by the individual citizen," the Taxpayers' Association declared.

Philatelists To Organize

All stamp collectors are cordially invited to attend an exhibit of stamps from the famous collection of E. C. Bertsch, and to participate in the organization of the Anaheim Stamp Club.

The event will take place in the recreation room, downstairs in Anaheim City Hall, on March 17 at 7:30 p.m.

The display will be open to the public.

Gerrit Plantinga was home last weekend from Muroc air base where he has been on a job for his company. Because of the snow on the desert and bad weather conditions, their party back-tracked 180 miles in their attempt to find a passable road home.

taxpayers in relief costs.

It is operated by the voluntary service of a board of directors which includes 21 of the prominent business and professional men and women of the county.

Terry Stephenson knew Goodwill Industries and its work very well, as he knew most of the things going on around the county in his day. He wrote, further:

"The slogan of the institution (Goodwill Industries) 'Not charity but a chance' has always made a strong appeal to me. I have found that it is exactly that kind of an organization. It does give a group of men and women a chance to make their own way. In these days when public money is rolled out in relief in almost unmeasured quantities, it is indeed a fine thing to find these workers anxious and willing to take care of themselves.

"One may hear in idle talk that Goodwill is owned by individuals. That is not so. There are no dividends to any owner or owners. Those who are in the work as employees are the only beneficiaries."

To the list of beneficiaries may be added the taxpayer and the Goodwill store customer.

Completion of the period in which judicial candidates must file notices of intention, in advance of the regular nomination filing period, finds at least three candidates for every one of the five judgeships in the lower courts of the county. Two districts have five candidates each.

This does not necessarily mean that there actually will be that many candidates. Filing notice of intention does not commit the candidate to file a nomination petition, which would put his name on the ballot.

Some of these filed undoubtedly are political balloons, released to see if they will stir up support, or to place the candidate in position to run if lightning should strike down the stronger candidates.

River Water Off 'Til Rain Water Soaks In

There is no immediate prospect of resuming flow of Colorado river water purchased from Metropolitan Water district by Orange county flood control district, officials said this week, in view of rain-soaked spreading grounds and channel along the Santa Ana river.

The flow was cut off last week by the heavy rain storm, in order to prevent run-off to the sea. Surface flow of the river is still below the Chapman avenue bridge at Orange, and the Colorado river water will not be released again into the river channel at Arlington until surface flow fails to pass the Anaheim-Olive bridge, officials stated.

Several thousand acre feet of the 25,000 acre feet purchased remain to be delivered.

Bandits Rob Hunt Grocery

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hunt underwent a harrowing experience on Sunday night when they were held up and robbed of over $400 in cash, a large quantity of meat, cigarettes, butter and other commodities from their grocery store at 7732 Lincoln Avenue, and linens, silverware and other articles from their home, which is situated at the rear of the store.

Returning from the home of Buena Park friends about 11:20 p.m. Hunt went to unlock the door and turn on the lights before his wife left the car, as was his habit. When he opened the door he was confronted by a masked man holding a gun. Two others stood in the background. Almost involuntarily, he struck the gunman in the face and a scuffle began.

Hearing the commotion, Mrs. Hunt went to the house. Upon seeing the masked men, she turned and ran for help but slipped and fell on the wet ground, losing her purse containing quite a sum of money, in the darkness. One of the robbers led her back into the house.

The trio of bandits, all of whom wore gloves, then forced Hunt to hand over the money from the store, bound and gagged both victims, took the other loot which they had already gathered together, and departed in their victims' car.

The Hunts struggled loose and called officers from a neighbor's home as the robbers had jerked their telephone wires out. Investigators said Hunt was fortunate "to be alive" after hitting the man in the face.

The car was abandoned on Orange avenue where it was recognized by friends early Monday morning.

The thieves, who appeared quite young, had evidently entered the house sometime before, as they had opened pop bottles and eaten candy and other "refreshments" leaving the living room in great disorder. They had also been watching television.

The sheriff's officers are busy on the case.

Rescue Wagon Discussed At Council

Reflecting the wishes of the members present, the sponsorship of securing a rescue wagon for the fire department was turned back to that group at the meeting of the Cypress Coordinating council Friday night.

By-laws of some of the representative groups prohibit certain types of money-raising systems, so a motion of the council passed which put the sponsorship back in the hands of the firemen, commended the idea of purchasing a rescue wagon, and left the method of raising any amount of money they felt they could give to the individual clubs.

Money Is Returned
Fifty dollars which had been given to the council by member clubs for the purpose of either putting it in a fund to purchase the rescue wagon, or "spending it as the council wished", was returned to the clubs who donated it, so it could be given directly to the firemen.

The firemen indicated their intentions of raising money by sponsoring a dance June 14 and they also intend to push a ticket selling project. Prizes will be given away at the dance.

Joe Schermann Speaks
Joe Schermann, of the county forestry department, spoke to the group before the business meeting, and described the type of rescue wagon now in use by many of the county fire departments. In most cases a panel truck is equipped to carry a resuscitator, and other equipment.

No Ambulances
Referring to talk about purchasing an ambulance, he said that the Forestry department is not allowed to go into the ambulance service. By the time one is properly equipped, plus the cost of maintaining it, he pointed out that the cost is practically prohibitive for an organization the size of the local fire department.

Purchase of a wheel chair by the coordinating council has been planned, and the member organizations have been asked for five dollars. But since further investigation revealed a higher cost than was planned, it was voted that representatives take the question back to their clubs with a request for a larger donation. A committee was also appointed by council chairman H. J. G. Kreissler to try and find a chair at a lower cost than those located thus far.

A. E. "Pat" Arnold was a flu sufferer early in the week.

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT

Glen McCloud Says

Among the greatest gifts to man, God gave fire and water. Along with the gift, seems to have gone the wish that man exercise control over the elements for his own benefit.

Far-sighted men have provided Southern California with ample water supply through the harnessing of great rivers. Great engineering projects are being completed to dispose of the surplus water in sewers. The control of water during floods has not entirely been licked and that's why sections of the country receive damage during the wet years and have little water supply retained during dry years.

Flood Control engineering in Orange county is a necessity, for our county is the run-off area for much of the back mountain country. The great flood of 1937-38 and later heavy rains of 1941, 1945 and even this Spring, point out the necessity of adequate planning in control of flash floods which hit our county.

I believe control of the elements for our good is as necessary as the receiving of them and everything within our power should be done to preserve the precious gifts of Nature.

Take it from me—you'll like electric drying! One of the nicest things about having an automatic electric clothes dryer is that you're all through fussing with poles, lines and clothespins. Drying clothes indoors is so much faster and easier. What's more, clothes dry better in an electric dryer. The clean and uniform electric heat turns them out soft, fluffy and ready to iron.
